

we like the wisconsin no call law just the way it currently is.
There is nothing more irritating than getting telemarketing calls during supper or worse yet during the day when my husband is sleeping because he works the night shift.